Grindells Hut Artist in Residency April 2016
offered us an environment where we were no longer visitors.
But as a collective we were part of the place in which,
ultimately we were guests of the landscape.

The Vulkathunha Gammon Ranges is rich in natural beauty and history and largely untouched.
We were eager to interpret as a collective
and in our own individual practice.
